GERMAN UNITY
PLAN DRAFTED
BY MARSHALLNO MAJOR ISSUES
SETTLED YET BY BIG FOUR

By John M. Hightower

London, Dec. 1 (AP)—French Minister Georges Bidault said today that if the London Conference of Foreign Ministers fails to agree on the future of Germany, the French zone may be merged with the British and American zones to establish a unified western Germany.

Bidault, who is going to Paris tonight for conferences with French government leaders, stated this position at a meeting with French reporters shortly before the foreign ministers council opened the second week of its sessions at Lancaster house.

Meanwhile it was authoritatively reported that Russia had turned down today a French proposal for settling the issue of German assets in Austria, which is the chief barrier to completion of an Austrian peace treaty here.

The French plan has been under consideration by a committee of deputy foreign ministers who are due to report to the Big Four tomorrow. Action by the deputies may not necessarily be final.

Won't Set Figure

The Russians contended they are entitled to all assets in Eastern Austria formerly owned by Germans. The French proposed that by way of settlement they accept payments of $100,000,000 (million) plus the Danube Shipping company and a share in the Zisterdorf oilfield production.

American information reporting on today's deputies meeting, said efforts by the United States and Britain to get the Russians to fix a value on their total claims proved unavailing.

Secretary of State Marshall and his aides prepared specific proposals for the unification of Germany and the eventual creation of a central German government.

Bidault told newsmen he still considers the London conference offers the last real chance for a four-power settlement on Germany.

If the meeting fails, he said, he expects negotiations among Britain, France and the United States upon the form, condition and manner of a fusion of the French zone with the other two. French action, he indicated would be determined largely, if not entirely, by those negotiations.

Meanwhile, he declared, France has made no commitments or agreements with the other western powers about her future course.

Argument Over Girl
Cause Of Ann Arbor
Card Game Shooting

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 1 (AP)—Prosecutor Douglas Reading today quoted Clifford J. Carter, 53, as saying he shot a 22-year-old card party companion during an argument "over a girl."

The victim, Dwight Duncan, was reported in fair condition at St. Joseph hospital, suffering bullet wounds in head and chest. Carter was held for investigation of assault with intent to kill. The shooting followed a negro card party Sunday morning at an Ann Arbor home.

Airliner Overshoots
Runway, Strikes Car;
7 Die, 10 Badly Hurt

Seattle, Dec. 1 (AP)—Seven persons are dead and 10 others critically injured today following a fiery crash in which a four-engine Alaska Airlines transport overshoot a runway yesterday at the Seattle-Tacoma airport and smashed a passing automobile.

Twenty-six of the 28 aboard the big plane scrambled from door and emergency exits or were pulled from the flames by rescuers. All, however, were scared by the gasoline-fed flames that flashed through the fuselage. Four of the rescued died later.

The latest casualty was the plane's stewardess, Miss Reba Cook of Santa Monica, Calif., who was credited by survivors with having led many of the passengers to safety.

The other dead are: Fred Smith, Tacoma, Wash., who died eight hours after the crash.

Leslie Howe, 33, Seattle and Spokane, Wash., a carpenter, died in the hospital.

Ole Ring, Anchorage, Alaska, died of burns and injuries.

Mrs. Virginia Stittsworth, 33, Tacoma, entertainer known professionally as Virginia Grafton.

Gordon Johnson, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Palmer, Alaska.

Mrs. Pearl Stella Jones, 43, Seattle, blind woman trapped in the car which the big transport smashed as it careened off the field onto the intersection of the Des Moines, Wash., highway and 15th St.

Ten others of the plane's passengers and crew members were in critical condition at Seattle and Renton hospitals. Several were not expected to live.

Bodies of two of the dead were not recovered until nearly four hours after the crash because of the intense heat emitting from the wreckage.

The plane, a DC-4, crashed only a few minutes after it had been turned back from an attempted landing at Seattle's Boeing Field by fog. Two airport employees in the control tower at the Seattle-Tacoma field said the ceiling reduced to Pilot James Evan Farris, Seattle, as the plane settled through the overcast was "600 feet with one and one-quarter miles visibility." Three minutes after the crash, a special reading showed the ceiling at "400 feet with three-quarters of a mile visibility."

Jacobs Wilford was killed earlier in the closing day in Sage township, Gladwin county. State police said he apparently climbed through a barbed wire fence dragging his gun, barrel first behind him. The gun discharged, killing him instantly.

The death toll came within two victims of the record of 18 gun-shot fatalities recorded in 1943 and was well above the 1946 total of nine dead.

State police said a total of 50 hunters were wounded during the deer season which opened Nov. 15.

The assembly, which last night approved a call of 30,000 men to the colors to combat the creeping paralysis induced by the strikes, became such a well of tumult that it suspended for two hours its consideration of the strike law.

Neither the chairman nor speakers could be heard.

Police and motorized armed forces opened roads in northern France to truck coal mines, but few miners appeared to be returning to work. Fights erupted at Lievin when 700 miners tried, apparently without success, to return to work.

The New England lawmaker told a reporter he has received much mail since his demand last week that GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece resign as part of a "top to bottom" party shake-up.

"The only complaints I had were from Democrats," the gray-haired former Vermont governor said. "They gave me the devil, saying that if the Republicans could retain the presidency and regain control of congress."

Aiken said he has not talked with Reece and does not plan to do so.

"But," he added, "I may have a statement later if things don't change. I want to see the Republican party win in 1948 but to do that we must have broader individual management in the national party and more constructive legislation in congress."

SENATE VOTES
FOR STOP-GAP
EUROPEAN AIDHOUSE BLOC MAY TRIM FUND OF 597 MILLION

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—Emergency help for three western European nations approached the voting stage in the Senate today, but the issue was still being fought out behind the scenes in the House.

Senate leaders were hopeful that a vote would be reached before tonight on a measure authorizing $597,000,000 interim aid for France, Italy and Austria. Before the ballot can be taken, however, the Senate first must dispose of a series of amendments offered by Senator Kem (R-Mo.).

In the House the question of relief still remains in the committee stage, where a battle is being waged over the amount of money that should be authorized. Economy advocates planned to carry to a Republican steering committee meeting their fight to keep unchanged a reduced appropriation recommended by the House foreign affairs committee.

Not All Spent
The foreign affairs group voted 10-9 to slash the aid total for the three European nations by $108,000,000 and add $60,000,000 for China. But there were also reports that a drive was on to have the committee reverse its stand and restore the authorization to its original $597,000,000.

In connection with the amount of cash to be actually provided in separate legislation, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) has asked the Senate appropriations

Death Toll of Deer
Season Reaches 16,
Two Under Record

By the Associated Press

The death of a 19-year-old Flint youth and a 75-year-old Gladwin man in the closing hours of the 1947 deer season today raised to 16 the total of hunters killed by gunfire in the 16-day season.

Lloyd Short (1397 Mitson Blvd.) was killed Sunday evening in Ogemaw county. State police at West Branch said his brother, Arthur Short, 26, of Lupton, Mich., told them he mistook him for a deer and fired a shot into his throat.

Jacobs Wilford was killed earlier in the closing day in Sage township, Gladwin county. State police said he apparently climbed through a barbed wire fence dragging his gun, barrel first behind him. The gun discharged, killing him instantly.

Truman Faces Hot
Fight If He Asks
40 Million Budget

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—If President Truman goes to Congress next month with a $40,000,000,000 (billion) budget for the coming fiscal year, he will face a hot fight from Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House appropriations committee.

"That's utterly ridiculous," Taber said of the estimate disclosed privately by administration officials familiar with figures going into the spending budget for the twelve months starting next July 1. "That will stand some close study and some cutting. It's bigger than this year's budget and we should be getting spending down instead of up."

Taber said he has no official estimates of the new budget and doesn't expect them until the president sends his budget message to Congress in January.

"But a forty billion dollar budget is just plain out of the question," said the New Yorker whose budget-cutting actions in the past have earned him the nickname of "Meat Axe John" among his colleagues.

Officials who projected the $40,000,000,000 figure over the weekend said there will be sharp reductions in domestic spending but that foreign aid will boost the total well above the $37,000,000,000 estimated for this year.

Secretary of State Marshall said last month the first year's outlay under his long range plan to help Europe help itself back on its economic feet might amount to $6,000,000,000.

"The White House, the state department and the treasury," Taber said, "don't seem to grasp the idea that unless foreign nations get themselves on a balanced budget and stabilize their currency, it is like pouring money down a rat hole to send them funds."

POWER IS SHUT
OFF IN FRANCEDrastic Strike Control Measures Pressed By Coalition Regime

By Mel Most

Paris, Dec. 1 (AP)—Strikes halted the Paris subway today and leaders of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor defied the government's anti-strike legislation. CGT leaders summoned all workers "to action," asserting they would refuse to negotiate further toward ending nationwide walkouts if the legislation was enacted in the national assembly.

Subways halted shortly after noon, when electric power was shut off by strikers. Gas pressure was reported at "danger levels" in the capital and service was reported stopped at Nice, Marseille and Cannes.

The assembly, which last night approved a call of 30,000 men to the colors to combat the creeping paralysis induced by the strikes, became such a well of tumult that it suspended for two hours its consideration of the strike law.

Neither the chairman nor speakers could be heard.

Fire Razes Haven
Of Homeless Men;
6 Dead, 17 Injured

Philadelphia, Dec. 1 (AP)—Wind-lashed flames whipped through a dormitory for homeless men today killing six persons and sending to hospitals 17 other men, some with critical injuries.

Some of the victims—many employed as street corner Santa Clauses—died or were hurt leaping from their quarters as the sub-freezing weather turned the water from firemen's hoses to ice.

The search for bodies ended at 10 a. m. (EST), about 10 hours after the blaze was first discovered. Forty persons were listed as safe or slightly injured.

The dead were listed by police as Stanley Bush, 45; Patrick Allen, 70; William Snead, 63; Michael Boyle, 59; Charles Kenney, 45; and Thomas Wallace, 50.

Sixteen members of a Kensington family were injured in another Philadelphia fire. They were trapped as flames, apparently starting from an oil stove, swept their home. Two of the victims were injured when they leaped from second story windows. The others were treated for burns and smoke inhalation.

Listed in serious condition at St. Mary's hospital were Randolph Phillips, 54; his wife Catherine, 47 and four children.

In the dormitory fire, the flames fanned by a high wind—spread rapidly through the four-story brick building which is occupied entirely by the volunteers of America.

The organization, with headquarters in the damaged building at Oxford and Marshall streets, used the first floor for a shop in which new and repaired toys are sold during the Christmas season and furniture and clothing the remainder of the year.

The second and third floors are dormitories for homeless men—many of them elderly and many of whom work as street corner Santa Clauses collecting donations for charity. The fourth floor is a repair shop.

Charles Berry, a reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer, who was one of the first to reach the scene, said he saw "four or five men jump from the second and third floors of the building."

"Several men were hanging at arm's length from window sills," Berry said, "and then let go despite the fact that by then firemen had ladders raised. One man was discovered a half hour later standing on the roof."

BLAST IS FATAL
TO GAS WORKERSupply To Big Michigan
Industries Cut Off
By Explosion

Temple, Mich., Dec. 1 (AP)—A blinding, pre-dawn explosion in an isolated gas compressor station near here Sunday created a critical shortage of industrial gas throughout the eastern half of Michigan today.

The blast, which killed one worker, injured six and shattered the plant on the Muskegon river with an estimated loss of $750,000, made its impact felt in 250 communities served by the Consumers Power Co.

Announcing emergency measures to meet the sudden shortage, the company asked large industrial users to reduce their consumption sharply and said it would be necessary for residential and commercial consumers to "use no more gas than absolutely necessary."

The shortage hit many of the state's industrial centers, such as Flint, Saginaw, Lansing, Bay City, Pontiac, Jackson and Kalamazoo, La. not Detroit.

Walter Kroes, 29, assistant chief operator at the plant, was killed instantly and six of his 14 fellow workers received minor burns as flames shot high into the sky. The men were protected by the walls of the station, around which they were laying pipe.

At least one plant in Saginaw shut down today, and John Thompson, manager of the Bay City-Midland district for consumers, said "the industrial load of both Bay City and Midland will be cut drastically" with service to Chevrolet in Bay City and the huge Dow plant in Midland "reduced to a minimum."

Friendship Cargo
Of Grain And Flour
Starts For LeHavre

Philadelphia, Dec. 1 (AP)—Loaded with 203 carloads of grain and flour collected by the third and final Friendship Train, the 10,000-ton Friendship, sailed on the first leg of its trip to LeHavre, France, where it will discharge its cargo for distribution to the hungry of France and Italy.

More than 500 persons gave the ship a rousing send-off yesterday as it sailed from Philadelphia with the grain and flour brought here by three sections of the third Friendship Train which canvassed midwestern and southern states.

The Friendship will pick up additional grain and flour at New York before sailing on the final leg of its journey. It is expected to arrive in LeHavre in about two weeks.

Brothers Date With Sisters; Four Dead
From Exhaust Gas

Sutton, W. Va., Dec. 1 (AP)—The Dean brothers had a "double date" with the Brown sisters, but all had an appointment with death.

The bodies of the four young West Virginians were found yesterday in a carbon monoxide-poisoned automobile, state trooper L. L. Gum reported.

He said the gas evidently seeped from a broken exhaust pipe, killing Hayward L. Dean, 28, his sailor-brother, Levia J. Dean, Jr., 21, and Margaret and Freda Brown, 25 and 20 years old, respectively.

RIOTING ARABS
TEAR FLAG AT
U. S. LEGATIONMOSLEMS PREPARE
ARMED RESISTANCE TO PARTITION

Cairo, Dec. 1 (AP)—Fear of an Arab holy war gripped the Middle East today as the United Nations decision to partition Palestine touched off riots during which Syrian demonstrators yesterday stoned the U. S. legation in Damascus and tore down the American flag.

The youths—predominantly Moslem—later marched to government house in Damascus and demanded arms and a Jihad (holy war).

Premier Jamil Mardam Bey told them:

"President Shukri Al-Kuwatly approves your demands because partition threatens not only Syrian independence but the very being of all Arab nations."

On their way to Al-Kuwatly's palace the youths—about 6,000 strong—not only attacked the American legation but also looted the Russian-Syrian cultural center and the French legation. They also clashed with members of the Syrian Communist party.

No Time For Talk
U. S. Charge D'Affaires Robert Memminger protested to Mardam Bey.

The tenor of Arab bitterness was indicated in a declaration by Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary of the seven-nation Arab league, who asserted his people would never submit to partition.

Azzam Pasha, whose organization represents some 33,000,000 Arabs, told newsmen yesterday that the league would resist partition "by force."

"I cannot say where and when I will place my troops," he said, "I can only say we will fight and are preparing for victory."

"The time now is not for speeches and talk," Azzam Pasha said. "It is a question of life and death. We never wanted violence nor war. We always hoped for settlement on the principles of self determination and justice."

"Now our hands are forced to the definite course for which Palestine Arabs and the whole Arab world have no alternative."

He said tactics were being drawn by a technical committee of the league which "is still continuing its work."

Dealer Who Sold
Cars At Loss Can't
Raise $110,000 Bond

Cleveland, Dec. 1 (AP)—Attorneys for John W. Singleton, held in jail in default of $110,000 bond on charges of embezzlement and larceny by trick, said they would make another attempt today to have bail reduced for the used car salesman.

Meanwhile, claims against Singleton, who sold almost-new cars at an apparent loss, continued to mount. Police Capt. Thomas A. Murphy declared more than 200 persons said they advanced a total of around $500,000 to Singleton for cars, but failed to receive delivery.

Theodore R. Spilka, attorney for Morris R. Blane, receiver in bankruptcy for Singleton, said "as far as I can learn every car Singleton sold he lost money on."

"I was told he informed his dealers that he had another used car lot where he made up his losses and also that he borrowed $100,000 from relatives, expecting to lose it on the first cars he sold," the attorney added.

Use Of Three-Cent Stamp Will Avoid Loss Of Greeting Cards

Postmaster Regina W. Cleary today emphasized that your cheerful Christmas greetings won't come to grief in the dead letter office this year if your Christmas cards are sent by first-class mail, which entitles them to both forwarding and directory service.

"Each year we have to destroy a large number of beautiful Christmas cards because they are incorrectly addressed and carry only third-class postage," the postmaster said. "We are sorry to do it, because we know each of these cards is intended to convey Christmas wishes to a special friend, who will be disappointed and puzzled at not receiving a card."

Postal regulations, of course, are the explanation. They do not require that more than one effort be made to deliver third-class mail because it is being carried at a lower postal rate. So if the address is wrong and there's only a 1½ cent stamp on the envelope, your carefully-selected Christmas card is carried back to the post office and dumped unceremoniously into the dead letter bins.

Undeliverable third-class mail is not returned to the sender, so you never know whether some of your Christmas cards go askew—and whether that's the reason Aunt Lilly suddenly stopped writing to you after last Christmas.

The postmaster pointed out that only first-class mail may be forwarded from one address to another. Cards bearing a 3-cent stamp are also entitled to "directed service," which means that skilled post office clerks will seek to trace down addressees who have moved since you made out your Christmas card list last year. These clerks also try to figure out whether you mean "Elm Street" when you addressed a card to a non-existent number on "Oak Avenue," and they are experts at deciphering obscured or almost-illegible handwriting.

"Only cards that are sent first-class may be sealed," the postmaster said. "You are permitted to sign your name on a card sent third-class, but if you decide to write a few cheery lines to an old friend or tuck in a little social note, be sure to put a 3-cent stamp on the envelope."

Every year some cards also are returned to senders because the stamp fell off en route. "Don't just give stamps a lick and a pat," she requested. "Affix them firmly."

The postmaster asked that all Christmas cards and packages for out-of-state delivery be in the mails by December 10, and that local cards be mailed by December 15.

LOCAL HERRING CATCH IS FAIR

Hope For Improvement As Cold Weather Brings Spawning Run

The herring run in northern Green bay waters today was reported as "fair" by Escanaba fishermen, who are hoping for a couple weeks of good fishing weather before they haul out their rigs for the winter.

Catches as high as 5,000 pounds were taken on Big Bay de Noc, but the take on Little Bay de Noc has run no more than a ton to a lift. It was reported that because of the late arrival of cold weather the herring run has not yet started on Lake Superior.

The recent cold snap has brought perch into Little Bay de Noc and there is hope for a fair run before the end of the season.

Some commercial fishermen fishermen pulling their nets now to avoid damage by ice and winter storms credit the season's odd ending to the unusually warm weather of October. When lake waters were not chilled on schedule spawning runs were delayed, and late spawning in turn resulted in an unusual harvest of big lake trout in Lake Superior, and a heavy herring run in Saginaw bay after many nets were stored away.

According to conservation department records, the 1947 commercial fishing season has been marked by a decline in lake trout production in Lake Michigan paralleling the lake trout decline of the previous year in Lake Huron. Among fishermen, the parasitic sea lamprey is getting a share of the blame for the reduced catches.

At the same time, the best whitefish catches in years—reminiscent of peak seasons of years ago—have been made in northern Lake Michigan and central Lake Huron. Fishermen see no connection between the whitefish increase and the trout decline, but note that the whitefish supporting the good fishing this season got their start when the Great Lakes' smelt population was at a low ebb. Planting was not responsible, as the number of whitefish stocked in recent years has been insignificant.

Commercial fish prices this season have been generally good, and in spite of irregular production the number of commercial fishing licenses has remained stable at about 1,400.

Gives His Side

To Whom It May Concern:

Everyone else has given his opinion of me. Now I'd like them to hear my side.

There have been quite a few write-ups in the paper (and I must say quite unfavorable to me) about the accident of the fawn.

I feel very sorry about this accident, which happened on our property. But some people don't seem to think I have any feelings at all.

I tried to explain this much to Mr. Wils but he was beyond listening. And as for him saying he saw me tearing rags off the deer: that's a filthy lie. And as you people like H. A. Sohn wanting to ride innocent people out on a rail, well, he should know by now that there are two sides to every story.

I don't like these ugly write-ups and feel sorry, as I said before, for the Wils, but some people seem to think I murdered a human being.

As for my being aware of the Wils pet deer, I didn't know a thing about it until the accident. We were driving this swamp and I had wounded a buck and was on its trail when I saw this deer in some balsams and, taking it for a buck, I fired.

Accidents will happen, you know. But that's hard to drive into some people's heads.

Major Dougoveto Has Left Korea

Iron Mountain, Mich. — Major Carl J. Dougoveto, his wife and five sons have said goodbye to Korea. They're coming home. They haven't seen the United States for over two years. The youngest son has never seen the States. He was born in Korea.

Formerly the company commander of various CCC camps in the U. S., the major, who was a captain when the war broke out, and his family will arrive in San Francisco on Dec. 2. He owns a home in Cedar River, Mich., and will visit in Iron Mountain.

After serving in Moscow, Major Dougoveto was in Iran two years, where he assisted in opening the lease-lend route to Russia. He then served in England for a year, arriving there shortly after D-day.

It is estimated that modern Americans read at least five times as much as their grandfathers did.

TWO HURT IN CAR MISHAP

Streamliner Hits Coupe
At Stephenson Avenue
Crossing

Joanne Hemes, 712 Lake Shore drive, suffered a bruised hip and Bruce Arntson, 207 North Twelfth street, suffered leg bruises in an accident at the Stephenson avenue railway crossing at 12:45 a. m. Sunday in which the coupe driven by Sam Schram, 908 First avenue South, was struck by the north-bound Chicago and North Western streamliner.

The right door, running board and fender was hit by the train, and the car was pushed 67 feet down the railway tracks before it came to a stop. Schram was driving south on Stephenson.

Peter Houle, 1608 Ludington street, railway flagman, said the automobile was proceeding slowly when it was hit. The street traffic lane was dry and clear of snow and ice, but the weather was clear. The streamliner was pulling out of the station when the mishap occurred.

Schram and Ulaime Kidd, 416 First avenue South, the fourth occupant of the auto, were unhurt. Miss Hemes was taken to St. Francis hospital where her general condition was reported this noon to be "fairly good." X-rays of her injured hip were taken, but there were no fractures, the attending physician reported.

Members of the train crew were A. Baker, engineer; Harry Olson, fireman; T. L. Powers, conductor; Frank Schumaker, baggage man, and A. Houlahan and Leo Wilson, brakemen.

Community Planning

COMMUNITY planning was suggested at a meeting of Delta county citizens here Friday as a topic for discussion at the Our Town Tomorrow Institute scheduled to be held in Escanaba sometime in January.

If this topic is included among the two or three selected for the institute discussion program, well known experts in city planning will be brought here to speak and advise community leaders.

Here is a wonderful opportunity to obtain authoritative information on a very vital subject. The idea of planning is sometimes pooh-poohed because the word was used so much in the New Deal era. However, large business corporations have engaged in planning for years to map out their growth in the future. Here is a chance for government to emulate private industry.

But in many American communities we have the evidence of a dire lack of planning in the past. Homes and industries are crowded together. Tar-papered shacks were allowed to spring up in what could have been attractive residential districts.

At the preliminary conference here Friday, one outsider raised the question: "Why did Escanaba allow a gasoline station to be built on every corner on Ludington street, so that now we cannot find a place to park when we come to your town?" This again is a problem of zoning, which should have been remedied years ago.

It is either difficult or impossible to correct the errors of the past. But we can do something, if we have a mind to, about sensible planning for the future growth of Escanaba. It is a problem of great importance now in view of the fact that the post-war building boom is now with us. Are we going to do something about it?

No War For Awhile

DESPITE all the talk, rumors and fears, war for either this country or Russia is unlikely for a number of years," says a current semi-monthly review. "Neither nation is in a position to wage large scale war. True, Russia has an army of some 200 divisions mobilized, and probably would overrun devastated Europe almost at will."

"In the second world war the United States required four years to prepare for the European invasion," adds this authority. "Now we have the atomic bomb, but its effectiveness over a country so vast and industrially dispersed as Russia is dubious, to say the least. Instead of war, the struggle for world leadership is likely to follow a different course, as Russia tries to expand her influence in eastern Europe and we help western Europe to rebuild to a point of self-protection."

This sounds reasonable, and it is probably much closer to real prospects for the future than the idle talk of war which is advanced by so many irresponsibles. However, there is a better way. We should keep up the search for peace on a basis that will be equitable to all concerned. A just peace can be materialized in this crisis, and the latter is so great and so dire that peace must be insured lest the world bomb itself into nothingness.

Industrial Forests

THE Fox and Wisconsin river valleys of Wisconsin, with their great water resources, are the sites of about twenty large mills engaged in the manufacture of pulp and paper products.

At one time, Wisconsin had large pulpwood timber stands to feed these mills, but in recent years the mills have relied more and more on the pulpwood produced in the woods of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Nekoosa-Edwards, the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company and other mills on the Wisconsin river are now obtaining much of their raw material from Gogebic county and the Copper Country. The Northern Paper Mills of Green Bay have pulpwood operations in Iron county, and Kimberly-Clark of Neenah extracts hundreds of carloads yearly from all parts of the Upper Peninsula.

To compensate for the depletion of timber stands in their own state, Wisconsin paper companies are engaging in vast reforestation programs. To date more than 38,000,000 trees have been planted on the Wisconsin industrial forests. While 1947 was not regarded as a particularly good year for reforestation, more than two million trees were planted, led by Nekoosa-Edwards Paper company with 700,000, National Container Corporation of Tomahawk and Consolidated with 400,000 each. Mosinee Paper Mills company planted 300,000 trees; Rhineland Paper company, 120,000; and Goodman Lumber company, 10,000.

While these industrial forests are growing, the Wisconsin companies are depending to a large degree upon the pulpwood forests of Upper Michigan to supply their current needs. The Upper Peninsula has its own paper industries at Escanaba, Manistique, Munising and Ontonagon, and it is to be hoped that the heavy drain on timber resources to sustain Wisconsin mills will not pose the problem of pulpwood scarcity in the future. Perhaps, like Wisconsin, the Upper Peninsula industry someday will have to supplement government tree planting programs with industrial forests of its own.

Death Rides Highways

THERE is a chart on the wall of the Escanaba Daily Press news room. As each traffic accident occurs, the number of dead is recorded thereon. To date, the chart shows a 1947 death toll of 14 on Delta county's highways and streets.

Last week, another accident occurred on highway M-69 and a Schaffer youth was killed. At first glance, it appeared that Delta county's traffic toll had increased to 15 for the year, but the fatal crash had occurred just a few miles over the line in Menominee county.

Whether Delta county's traffic toll is 14 or 15 is not the question, however. The question is what can be done to curb the high rate of fatalities and injuries that are occurring nowadays on the highways of Delta county and other Upper Peninsula communities?

Safety education campaigns can be helpful. More extensive patrolling of rural highways is another possibility. Vigorous enforcement of the traffic laws is always a "must," and particularly the drive to keep boozers off the highways must be carried on relentlessly. The promotion of traffic safety is a job that must be continued without let-up, if the horrible toll of automobile accident deaths is to be substantially reduced.

THE GHOST SHIP SAILS ON

(Green Bay Press-Gazette)

The Mary Celeste was brought to port 75 years ago but it is still the Sphinx of the Atlantic, posing a mystery or mysteries, a puzzle that now is past solving.

The Mary Celeste sailed from New York for Genoa. The skipper took along his wife and his bonnie daughter, a blue-eyed lass of two years. When this trim brig was 200 miles west of Gibraltar she was sighted by an English boat but gave no response to repeated signals. Still under sail, the Englishmen wondered what was amiss with a strange craft that still headed toward Europe without a soul in sight. Boarding her they found well stocked store rooms and a seaworthy hold, a half eaten meal on the table, the crew's wash hanging up to dry in the forecabin and the captain's watch ticking away on a nail above his berth. There was no indication of struggle or confusion. There was every indication that they crew had shortly been aboard. On the first mate's desk lay a half-finished letter.

But not a human was aboard, nor had a drop of blood been spilled. No sign of fire or collision, no evidence of storm or foul play.

And that is still the story of the Mary Celeste, an amazing tale hidden in a labyrinth of doubts and questions.

The sea has brought us many mysteries from out of its dark and brooding depths. And men look at these mysteries through wondering eyes because suspense enthalls. Some very capable pens have done their best to fill in the great open spaces in the story of the Mary Celeste, but they have failed completely. Nature can write better mysteries than man.

Perhaps, because it does not always seek to explain them.

Pumpkins, as usual, will play a part in the Halloween fun. They haven't the face to let the kids down.

People who think before they speak can back up what they say, says a professor. Others can just back up.

Work must have been invented by someone too nervous to sit still.

Take My Word For It

WORDS TO WATCH

Q. My Funk & Wagnalls' New Standard lists "aw-toe-MOE-bill" as the first choice pronunciation for the word automobile. What is your comment?—H. D.

A. It's just another of the oxcart pronunciations that creep along in the obsolete pages of the unabridged dictionaries. I remember that, back in the days of the one-cylinder Brush runabout (top speed 17 m. p. h.), an automobile was occasionally called an "aw-toe-MOE-bill" or "aw-tuh-MOE-bill." But in this chromium-plated, streamlined year of 1947, the Standard American pronunciation is: AW-tuh-moe-BEEL. Some speakers place the primary accent on the first syllable; others place it on the last syllable.

The word gherkin, in a radio commercial, was pronounced "jerkin." The gherkin is a small, prickly cucumber, used for pickling. In English, all words beginning with "gh" have the hard "g" sound, as in ghastly, ghost, ghou, Gherkin, therefore, is: GUR-kin.

A curious transposition sometimes occurs in pronouncing the word irrelevant, "not pertinent." The "i" and the "v" change places as if the word were spelled

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Ames, Iowa. — Out of the good black earth of the Midwest have come, in recent years, such bounteous harvests as the farmer of yesterday never dreamed of. The increasing use of machinery and of new scientific techniques applied to plants and animals contributed to this flow of wealth that went into the balance on the side of victory in the war.

Now the same abundance is essential to win the peace. The sights are set for four to five years of maximum production, granted always, of course, that the factor of weather is not too unfavorable.

Here at Iowa State College of Agriculture are many of the experts who have put science on the farm. Dean Robert E. Buchanan of the graduate college was one of the twenty members of the Harriman committee who framed that impressive report on American capacities and American resources.

—LOOKING TO FUTURE—

These experts are concerned not merely with the immediate production problem. They are looking at the longer future and trying to appraise the production value of this black earth a hundred years from now.

On the whole they are optimistic. They believe that, if present methods of soil conservation are extended and better techniques developed and applied to varying types of soils, then there is no reason why production should not be as high in 2047 as it is today. In other words, they do not feel that the soil is being too drastically mined out by the bumper crops of recent years.

A lot of things have happened in the past two decades to stop the waste of what is, in the last analysis, the country's most vital asset. One was the Roosevelt farm program begun in 1933. Even in Republican Iowa they are willing to admit that. It became both practical and profitable to follow conservation principles.

With the spread of scientific knowledge, farmers began to use new and more potent fertilizers. But with all this, there is no room for complacency. The experts point to the pressing need for more research which will make it possible to apply specialized treatment to soils of varying types. Certainly, when you cast up the national soil account, you see the need for far more effort than has been put into conservation so far. It works out roughly as follows.

In the United States about 460 million acres of good crop land are left. Of this, 80 million need clearing, and irrigation or drainage. Of the total, more than 100 million acres are now being operated on sound soil conservation principles.

—MUST RECLAIM LAND—

This looks fairly encouraging until you put it alongside human needs. It takes about three acres a person to supply a minimum diet and the raw materials for clothing and shelter. Multiply the estimated population in 1960 by three and you come out with a deficit. Even by 1950 we will need 410 million acres of good land in production to sustain present levels of living and continue normal food exports.

That means it is urgently necessary to get part of the unreclaimed 80 million acres ready for use. It means that the national and state soil conservation services must extend their work at once.

This is imperative because land damage is proceeding at a faster rate than conservation for the nation as a whole. An estimated one-fourth of our cropland is being damaged, primarily by erosion, at a critical rate. Another large area is being damaged at a serious rate. Yet, at the last session Congress cut down a requested appropriation for conservation research from $1,423,000 to $1,048,000. It ought to be ten times that amount.

In Texas and Oklahoma, the dust is beginning to blow again. There the farmer has been trading his soil for a bumper crop. The bill will shortly be coming due, as it came due once before, in terms of human misery.

Here at Iowa State college, the weight of the experts is all in favor of farming as a way of life. They are using their influence to discourage land speculation and to encourage farmers to put boomtime profits back into soil development and better buildings.

They are heartened by the increase in the number of farm owners. Farms operated by tenants in Iowa have dropped from 52 per cent in 1937 to 42 per cent at the beginning of the current year. You hear remarkable stories of ambitious young men who have paid for their farms in three or four years, and even in two years.

Whether it is profits and practicality or idealism and a new interest in the world—more likely a combination of both—the Midwest is abandoning its isolationism. That is a fact of greatest political significance for America and Europe.

"irrelevant." This is a good word to watch. Be sure to pronounce it: ear-RELL-uh-vnt.

Overheard on a food commercial: "made delicious by a 'PICK-wunt' sauce." The word piquant was used correctly; but the pronunciation has no sanction. Piquant, "agreeably tart; pungent," is a French loan word, from the verb piquer, "to sting, to prick." Piquant, in Standard American, is pronounced: PEE-k'nt.

A similar word is poignant, "piercing, keen; pathetic." It, too, is from the French. Do not say "POIG-n'nt." The "gn" should have the sound of "ny," thus: POIN-ny-nt.

The word alienation is frequently heard as "uh-LEE-nee-AV'shun," a mispronunciation to be avoided. Better pronounce it: AIL-yun-AL'shun.

Bubble, Bubble, Toil and Trouble

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

THE "MAGIC" WAND —We were talking to Delta County Clerk J. Theodore (Ted) Ohlen the other day in his office about some lots he has over on Sand Bay near Fayette in Fairbanks township.

We have some lots over there too. It's a very nice place. Some day we are going to build a cottage over there, we told Ted, and when we do we'll first drive a well point down to get water and then build the cabin around the well. A pump inside the house, we said, is more convenient.

"When you get ready to drive that well I'll show you where to put it down," Ted offered. We told him we didn't expect much trouble, because it's close to the shore of Big Bay de Noc. "You can't tell," said the county clerk earnestly, "sometimes there's rocks or something and you run into trouble. But if you use my stick I can find water for you and tell you the best place for your well."

SOME DO, SOME DON'T—The last time we heard about anyone using a "divining rod" we didn't believe it. Fact is, we had never met anyone who could wrestle with a stick and come out with any more moisture than you'll find on a perspiring brow. We had always supposed such people were characters in books, wore long white beards, and lived in old shacks at the edge of town.

But here was a man who didn't have a beard and he does live in a very respectable neighborhood in Gladstone—yet he can use a wood stick to tell you where to drill a well. We asked Ted if he used a willow stick and he said, "No, just any old kind. It doesn't make any difference about the stick. It's the way the stick feels in your hands."

URANIUM FINDER —Then in the Associated Press news service there came a story from Roslare Harbour, Wexford, Eire (Ireland the Murphys call it) about a man named Joseph Henry Bennett, who has turned from using his water diviner to the discovery of uranium. Bennett, a farmer, has branched out in the business of divining and can now discover water and minerals just by holding a stick over a large-scale map.

This long-distance technique has had some success, however, and Bennett has had letters of appreciation from persons who live in several countries of the world. Then one day he surprised the British government by announcing that he had "discovered" uranium by holding a stick over the map of a distant British possession. He says there is "miles" of the precious stuff in the possession—but so far he refuses to tell which one it is. He would like a little compensation for his work.

PROVES IT'S TRUE—And down at Menominee, Jean Worth of the Herald-Leader, reports in "Ye Town Crier": "Billy Lehman was in recently. He read a piece in the paper about a Mick who claimed that he used a divining rod to locate uranium as well as water. He

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Raymond McDonough who is a student at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids has returned to his studies after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed McDonough.

Gladstone — O'Neil D'Amour has returned to DePere, Wis., to resume studies at St. Norbert's college following a weekend vacation spent here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil D'Amour.

Manistique—Mrs. R. G. Hentschell has returned from Los Angeles, Calif., where she attended the funeral of her mother.

Rock—Julia Maki, student of NSTC in Marquette, visited here with her parents over the weekend.

Twenty Years Ago

Marquette—Fire starting shortly before midnight in the Tierney block, was still not under control at one o'clock this morning. The building is occupied by several commercial enterprises and damage has not been estimated. This is the second fire in two days.

Foster City—One of the largest elms, scaling 4,803 feet of lumber, was cut and skidded at the A. J. Peterson camp in Foster City. The stump of the elm was five feet in diameter and the tree yielded three logs, smallest of which was 44 inches at the smaller end.

preferred hazelwood for his divining rods, but Billy says that is just balderdash, that any wood is good. He brought in a forked branch of lilac and demonstrated how to hold it. The rod obediently pointed to the basement of the Herald-Leader building, where the plant's water pipes pass and Billy said: "See! There's water right down there! I was up at Daggett a few weeks ago and located water for a fellow that wanted to build a house. I've found it all over and used all kinds of woods for divining rods. They say it has to be wood from a tree with a pit in its fruit, like a peach or a plum, but I use any old kind of wood."

TED HAS, TOO—Ted Ohlen reports that he also has proved that his divining rods will find water. In fact he has proved it a number of times. One man out in the country asked Ted to find water for him, and when Ted discovered the water, after digging where he thought water should be, the man finally tried where Ted had advised him. Sure enough, there was plenty of water there.

"There are veins of water in the ground just like the veins that carry blood in a body," Ted said. "I don't know what does it, but when the rod starts to pull down I know there is a vein of water there."

SENSITIVE STICK —Like Billy Lehman, Ted says any old stick will do as a divining rod. Some seem to be more sensitive than others, but if there is water down there almost any piece of branch or twig will react. "Once I had a stick that pulled down hard and I thought I would just see if I couldn't hold it from pointing to the ground," Ted said. "I held it as hard as I could and then had to let go because a sharp pain on the stick cut into my hand. See, here's the scar."

Sure enough, there was a scar at the base of the thumb on his right hand. That stick must have been attracted by an underground lake.

New York (P)—Everyone has a personal catalog of pet hates that rob life of zest and pattern it with dull sorrow.

Here are some of my favorite blood pressure raisers—things that never would be missed:

Little white dogs that smile at you until you turn your back and then sneak up and bite you in the leg.

Socks that get a hole in the right toe the first time you wear them. (Is there any other kind?)

Snakes, snails, eels, centipedes, spiders, tarantulas, and old ladies who kiss small children with a noise like a broken vacuum cleaner.

Alarm clocks, low-held umbrellas, snagged typewriter ribbons, cuff links, and dresser drawers that stick until the pitying wife comes over to help—and then pull out for her easy as pie.

Women who lift a martini at 12:01 p. m. and say brightly: "First one this afternoon."

Men who down their tenth highball of the evening at 12:01 a. m. and say brightly: "First one this morning."

People who say anything before taking a drink.

Cab drivers who strike up a conversation or agree with your gripes just to earn a bigger tip. Also the attendant in the men's rooms of night clubs—the useless demanding tribute to perform the unnecessary.

Hatcheck girls who sneer daintily if you fork over less than two bits to buy back the battered felt you couldn't hook for twelve cents at a pawnshop.

Elevator operators too cowardly to murder passengers who say: "Your life sure has its ups and downs."

People who look at you as if you were an idiot because you admit you never owned a motor car, can't drive one and don't want to learn how.

Bubble gum, inconsiderate restaurant waiters, salesmen who want me to buy a swimming pool, shirts with long collar points that curl up into my eyes, and mothers who hand me babies to hold that don't wear rubber pants.

Dentists who say "This will hurt a little" when you both know it is going to hurt like a hammer on the skull.

The sound of women crunching on dry toast in a quiet room.

Professional ballroom dance acts, jugglers, and men who wear in public expensive neckties illustrated with hand-painted figures of nude women. (On the other hand, if they just buy them to hang on a tieback in their room and stare at them, that's okay.)

The so-called "new look," which reduces fair ladies to the semblance of medieval cavalry horses in velvet drapes.

Printed letters that begin "You are one of the intelligent people of America, one who . . ."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington. — Members of the Senate appropriations committee just returned from Europe, inspected the Dachau concentration camp with its gruesome gas chambers and other instruments of death.

Afterward they went into a courtroom where a number of Nazis, including two Dachau hangmen, were on trial. Committee Chairman Styles Bridges of New Hampshire asked a guard what the charges were against the prisoners.

He noticed two of the Nazis listening with interest as the guard said briefly that they were former SS troopers, Gestapo members and executioners. Bridges then asked the guard to point out the two hangmen.

Immediately the two Nazis who had been listening shot their hands up and, with broad grins, identified themselves to the senator.

It wasn't only the Nazis who used English, however. In English, the Pope later told the appropriations committee during a visit at Castel Gandolfo on All Saints Day, that "I think I have met half of the American Congress this summer."

Payoff was the visit of the nine senators to the docks at Piraeus, neth Athens. There they inspected a group of ten American fishing boats sent to Greece by UNRRA but never used by the underfed Greeks because—the senators were told—Greek fishing magnates refused to permit competitive boats to leave the docks regardless of how much their countrymen needed food.

A crowd of Greeks gathered as the Senate groups inspected the boats. Finally, one ragged Greek pushed his way forward and, in broken English, asked: "Are you Americans?"

When the senators nodded, the Greek inquired: "What are you going to do? First you sail these boats over here—now did you come to sail them back?"

—KNUTSON ON TAFT—

Brusque Harold Knutson, a power in the House and Rock-of-Gibraltar Republican, was sitting at a cluttered dinner table in the House cafeteria, dissecting Senator Bob Taft to California Republican Bertrand Gearhart and Georgia Democrat Gene Cox.

"He made a lousy speech in San Francisco," snorted the gentleman from Minnesota, "then went to Seattle and made a lousier one."

He mashed his cigar in a dirty plate, cleared his throat and fired at an imaginary spitoon on the floor.

"I'll tell you," he continued, "Taft is smart but he's got no character!"

—U. S. GOT THE SCENERY—

When Republican Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was touring Europe with the appropriations committee he asked Austria's foreign minister, Karl Gruber, how the Russian-occupied zone in Austria compared with the U. S.-British zone.

"Well, it's like this," replied Gruber. "Russia got the great agricultural lands, the key industrial cities and the oil fields."

"What did the Americans and the British get?" asked Bridges.

"Oh, they got the scenery," Note—The U. S.-British occupation zone takes in most of the beauty spots, including the Austrian Alps and the vacation resorts, but is mainly non-productive.

—EXIT A DEMOCRATIC LEADER—

You can write it down that Gael Sullivan won't remain on which longer as executive director of the Democratic national committee.

Sullivan stayed on as party director reluctantly after Senator Howard McGrath succeeded Hannegan as chairman of the national committee. Though McGrath and Sullivan grew up together in Rhode Island, however, they haven't clicked at the national committee.

For one thing, McGrath has embraced such Tories as J. P. Shouse, one of the original Liberty Leaguers, who Roosevelt would never let come anywhere near policy matters.

Best guess is that McGrath will soon be left alone to steer the Democratic ship of state for better or for worse—probably the latter.

—UNSCATHED HIROHITO—

By unofficial messenger, the emperor of Japan has sent his personal thanks to Senator Elbert Thomas of Utah for saving the imperial palace from being bombed during the war.

The Hirohito untold story on Tokyo bombings is that President Roosevelt was urged by certain generals to order the bombing of the emperor's palace. So he called on Senator Thomas, once a Mormon missionary to Japan, for advice.

Thomas recommended strongly against the bombing. He argued that the Japanese people would be embittered and no military advantage gained.

"The palace will not be bombed," Roosevelt promised.

After the war this story eventually got back to Emperor Hirohito, who asked an American to deliver the emperor's deep appreciation to the senator from Utah.

—IRE OVER CHINA—

Iowa's grizzled Senator George Wilson was so infuriated when the state department refused to show him the Wedemeyer report that he assigned a research team to study the feasibility of legislation to force the report loose. The researchers advised against it, and Wilson has decided instead to block the administration's program for China until all the facts are divulged.

Note—Secretary of State Marshall promised a program for China "two or three weeks" after the stopgap aid for Europe was proposed. It hasn't been offered yet.

DAMAGE CAUSED BY ANTIFREEZES

Alcohols And Ethylene Glycol Safe; Salt Mixes Harmful

Washington, (SS).—Watch the kind of antifreeze mixture you put in the radiator of your car, the National Bureau of Standards warns.

Simple alcohols and ethylene glycol are safe antifreezes, and have been used for many years, it says. Petroleum-base and salt-base antifreezes are harmful, and were prohibited during the war in order to conserve cars. The first does not mix with the water; the salt-base materials cause corrosion.

The alcohols are methyl, or wood alcohol; ethyl, or grain alcohol; and isopropyl, a comparative newcomer on the market. Ethylene glycol, unlike the simple alcohols, boils at a higher temperature than water. It is, therefore, a "permanent" antifreeze, that remains in the radiator when the water boils out. Simple alcohols require more or less frequent replacement after a spell of mild weather.

In the pure state as purchased, neither the alcohols nor the ethylene glycol are corrosive to any part of the automobile engine. The tap water which is added to the antifreeze solution is, however, definitely corrosive. D. B. Brooks of the Bureau staff states. To prevent the corrosion, inhibitors are included in reputable makes of antifreezes. The inhibitor is good for one season's use.

Of the two harmful classes of antifreezes, by far the worst from the standpoint of engine damage are salt solutions, such as calcium or magnesium chlorides. No inhibitor has yet been found which will stop, or even appreciably reduce, their corrosive action. These solutions have a tendency to "creep" and get into engine cylinders. Tests show that they injure cylinder block, water pump, radiator, and especially any aluminum such as cylinder heads.

Petroleum-base antifreezes do not cause corrosion but do attack radiator hose connections, particularly if made from natural or reclaimed rubber. Natural synthetic rubbers are uninjured by them. Besides the fact that they mix little with standing water in the idle car, they have low heat capacity and are, therefore, prone to overheat. Both petroleum and alcohol antifreezes may ignite in case of a crash, but the petroleum burns with a much greater heat. Ethylene glycol solutions have practically no fire hazard.

TAKES POTSHOT AT MILITARISTS

Old Mutual Protective System Must Go, Says Ruark

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—Ever since the first cave-boy went to school for special training in the use of a knotted club, the professional warrior has worn a curious inferiority complex.

Warriors have forever dined on slim peace-time rations, depending on war to provide the good pickings. It has made them a suspicious, clannish bunch. As in a big Irish family, they fight like blazes inside the house, but always quit heaving the dormicks at each other in time to bare their fangs at the enemy outside.

Bennett Meyers is a sort of pimple, suddenly erupting from an old infection. He represents one of the rare instances in which a ranking member of the big brass got caught—caught so bad that all the army's skill in the cover-up couldn't launder him.

The Old Army Game
For every Bennett Meyers—whose alleged crimes were dug up by a civilian agency, and more or less by accident—there are still slathers of sinners who have escaped without censure, because of that, in a nutshell, is the simple creed: skip justice, skip injustice—just keep it quiet so the old fraternity won't be disgraced. Move 'em, lose 'em, stick 'em in sour jobs for punishment, but never let the peasants in on the fact that the golden attic has some lice in it.

This old sweet song has bred a deep suspicion of our armed forces in the minds of the several million alumni of the late mess, because they saw at first hand what happened when you bucked brass. It was okay to play ducks-and-drakes with the country's security in time of war while squabbling personal glory and political supremacy within the service. Fight the war with your left hand while devoting your heavy effort to the opposition inside the club. But cover up quick if the club as a whole is subjected to suspicion on the outside. This kind of thinking and operation is why the word "whitewash" is so frequently used in connection with military investigations.

No Closed Corporation
The professional services' closed—corporation concept hasn't yet caught up with the new definition of armed forces. War, and peacetime preparation for it, is no longer the sole property of a few nobles, with the fumbling assistance of a few civilian serfs. The very second they pass the universal military training bill, the army and navy belong to all of us, instead of to a handful of career men.

This is the fresh concept that will face Omar Bradley when he takes over as bossman after Gen.

Promptly relieves COUGHS of

CHEST COLDS

Breaks Up Surface Congestion, Too!
At the first sign of a chest cold—rub Musterole on chest, throat and back. It instantly starts to relieve coughs and tight soreness in chest muscles. Then good old reliable Musterole helps break up painful surface congestion and checks irritation. In 3 strengths. At all drugstores.

Eisenhower steps down. From this point on, when the pros start hollering about the sanctity of the uniform, they are going to be forced to practice a little harder and preach a little less.

Nobody who got mixed up in this last ratrace is without knowledge of some of the scandalous carryings on that went uncensored on high, because of the service's practice of dropping the iron curtain on the backstage caperings of its brass.

The shameful policking—the scramble for juicy assignments; the sabotage of rivals; the buck-passing; the greedy itch for more publicity and more importance and more subordinates—to breed that importance; the open war between branches; the masking of incompetence—all those things can no longer be hushed and handled the "army way" or the "navy way." Both of those terms have been synonyms of contempt in the heads of the alumni.

Let's Clean House
There can be no more open disdain by the pros for the peasant, ripped untimely from his plow, because that peasant is about to take over the army and the navy. If the peasant doesn't buy in it, he can wreck it by not joining it, because the congress is forced to listen to voters.

Now is the time to clean the house, and clean it well. If it is washed down real good and a lot of the old heraldic clantrap is spanged off, there is still plenty of time for reaffirmation of faith in our military leaders.

Rattle a few more Meyers off the walls. Abolish the old mutual protective system for the greater glorification of the ring-wearers and the other chosen pros. Send out a circular to all the old mess-backs that this is a new kind of now.

Why do people say:

"He's MY Doctor"?

People are quite possessive about their doctors, and for a very deep-rooted American reason. People are brought up to be individualists in this country—they know that it means something vital to be an individual "with certain inalienable rights." Their health is a very personal thing to them, and they want the mental satisfaction and peace of mind that comes from the individual choice of their medical doctors. There is both dignity and importance vested in the inalienable right to select one's doctor with a free will—and to refer to him as "my doctor." It is too much of a priceless right to be tampered with by any impersonal socializing, don't you think?

OWNERS LIKE the KAISER and the FRAZER!

THEY WRITE FROM EVERYWHERE
PRAISING PERFORMANCE, RIDE AND SERVICE

The Kaiser and the Frazer have been tried out in hundreds of millions of miles of motoring, by more than 115,000 owners. The verdict of these critical buyers is overwhelmingly favorable. Their experience adds up to such enthusiastic endorsement that more than half the sales we make result from owner recommendations!

Owners of Kaiser and Frazer cars write letters to Willow Run by the thousands, praising the performance, ease of control, roominess, economy and, above all, the ride that these great postwar automobiles give them. The following excerpts from unsolicited letters tell the whole story of why Kaiser and Frazer owners like these fine cars.

These Voluntary Statements Are Typical of Thousands

All Around Satisfaction—"I purchased the first Frazer car sold in our town. It is the best automobile I have ever owned or driven—and it takes in a goodly number."—From a Hamilton, Mont., Farmer.

Effortless Driving—"I have never experienced such performance and effortless driving as I have since I became the owner of a Kaiser—wonderful to handle in traffic."—From a San Marcos, Cal., State Forester.

The Best Ride of All—"I have driven my Frazer 8,247 miles. On a recent 2,780-mile trip through Canada I averaged 26.6 miles to the gallon. I have owned and operated many different makes of cars over a period of a great many years and never until I bought my Frazer have I owned a car that was so economical and I can truthfully say that this car gives the best ride of any automobile I have ever owned."—From a Cranston, R. I., Physician.

Safety—"For comfort and safety, I am convinced—after 10,000 miles—that no other car in any price range can compare with my Kaiser."—From a Mayfield, Ky., Sgt.

No Fatigue—"Driving my Frazer an average of 15 hours a day, I made the run from New York to San Francisco in 5½ days without the slightest fatigue. The road stability of the car is remarkable. Total absence of vibration. Absolute steadiness of the wheel."—From a Belgian Diplomat.

Service Accessibility—"I bought my Kaiser as I was sold on its workmanship, design and performance. Have just completed a 5,500-mile vacation trip and I like the lubrication layout and the way you can get at the engine. All parts that might need repair are more accessible than in any other car. These words are not only mine but those of service station attendants in many localities."—From a Peoria, Ill., Factory Supervisor.

Comfort—"After averaging 420 miles a day for 17 straight days on a round trip to California by way of Florida with my wife and three children, none of us were travel-fatigued when we got home. The Frazer is really a great car."—From a Trenton, Mich., Businessman.

Good Service—"A product is only as good as the service in back of it. My Kaiser has been well serviced everywhere, from the start, and I am perfectly satisfied."—From a Providence, R. I., Motor Vehicle Inspector.

Performance—"If any of your prospects want performance figures, here are a few: I just finished a 4,000-mile trip in my Frazer averaging above 20 miles per gallon at between 60 and 70 miles per hour. The car will hit 100 miles per hour anytime and will do 70 miles per hour in second gear. I can truthfully say that my car performs better as it gets older."—From a Laurel, Md., Businessman.

Roominess—"Friends who ride in my Kaiser are amazed at its roominess and at the smoothness of the ride."—From a Milwaukee, Wis., Retired Businessman.

Styling—"Our new Frazer has the more-expensive-car performance and styling and the less-expensive-car economy."—From a Hamilton, Ohio, Engineer.

Excellent Treatment—"We were on the list for 8 months when we took delivery of our Kaiser. In this day of 'under-the-table' deals, and 'accessories-or-else' policies, it is refreshing to report the excellent treatment we have had from your dealer."—From a Passaic, N. J., Businessman.

Most Satisfactory—"I want to thank you for selling me a Frazer. It is the most satisfactory car I have ever driven—and I have owned several different makes of cars in both the low-priced and the high-priced lines."—From a Boston, Mass., Insurance Executive.

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COLUMN and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SERVICE BUREAU, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone; write as directed.

Q. Besides Army and Notre Dame, which other schools were represented on the 1946 Collier's All-American Football Team?

A. Georgia Tech, Rice, Tennessee, U. C. L. A. (University of California, Los Angeles), and Georgia.

Q. Four months after being hospitalized, following my return to the States, my ailment was diagnosed as ulcers. I was given some treatment, returned to duty then given a CDD discharge. Although I still am troubled by the ulcers, no information concerning them is included in my final discharge. I have been discharged 9 months. Is my condition service-connected?

A. If you obtain medical evidence to show that gastric or duodenal ulcers existing to at least a 10 per cent degree occurred within a year of discharge the disability will be concerned to have been service-connected.

Q. Is it fairly easy to control sweating in a cellar?

A. No. The answer to sweating is well-regulated ventilation. Since the atmosphere when cool normally is drier than when warm, ventilation should be regulated by adjusting window and bulkhead openings according to weather conditions. These should be open night and day when the weather is fair and when it is cooler outside than inside the cellar. During hot sticky weather or long rainy spells, windows and bulkheads should be closed, because the outside air at those times is apt to be more moist than the cellar air.

Escanaba Electric Rates Lower Than Nation's Average

New York.—Except for users of small amounts of current, Escanaba residents pay less for electricity than do consumers in most other cities, according to a survey just made by the Federal Power Commission, covering all cities of 2,500 population and over.

The typical monthly bill in Escanaba, as of the early part of this year, for 100 kilowatt hours, the amount generally used for lighting, small appliances and refrigeration, was $3.63 as against an average of $3.75 in the other cities. In the 250 kilowatt hour classification, where cooking is involved in addition, the monthly bill in Escanaba was $6.23, contrasted with $6.93 elsewhere. In the 25 kilowatt hour category, however, Escanaba users paid $1.50 as compared with a United States average of $1.29.

The Federal Power Commission reports, on the basis of typical monthly bills in the 3,776 cities studied, that "except for the operation of fuel clauses in industrial service, the downward trend in electric rates continues." In the past twelve years, it states, there has been an overall drop of approximately one cent per kilowatt hour.

Local authorities have been called upon to investigate the theft of about seventy dollars from an apartment above the State Savings bank occupied by Anthony Nastoff.

The theft it is believed occurred between the hours of 1:30 and 5:00 Friday afternoon while the apartment was vacant, although the pilfering was not noted until some time later.

The money, two twenty dollar bills and three tens was in a miniature cedar chest on the dresser. The chest and some small change in a vase were missing. Two bank books, locked in the box are part of the loot.

Whether the lock was picked, or whether the thief has a key that fit it, has not as yet been determined.

WILL REPAIR
FERRY DOCKSDamage By Recent Storm
Calls For Much
Rebuilding

Extensive repairs on harbor and wharf facilities of the Ann Arbor Railroad company are being made at this time.

Some of these repairs are of a routine nature, but by far the most of them were necessitated because of the havoc brought by the storm of two weeks ago. The wind which forced the waves to swirl through the breakwater opening in a way that hit the dock with full force inflicted serious damage. This was particularly true along the south end of the docks where the bows of the ferry boats are snubbed to the shore.

Ground under the building which serves as office and depot, was also so undermined that the structure was listing.

The company has been making a survey of the damage done and the amount of repairing required, the checkup having been made by divers. It was estimated that 1,300 tons of stone would be necessary to put these facilities in satisfactory condition and the work is now on in full swing. A fleet of six trucks from St. Ignace, is hauling rock from Port Inland to the docks, each truck hauling about eight tons to a load. It is estimated that this phase of the work will be completed in about a week.

The set makes a novel decoration for the piano, on the mantle or under the Christmas tree.

The hostess served a delicious lunch which included pumpkin pie in the Thanksgiving tradition. The holiday motif was carried out in the table decorations, the napkins etc.

Letter Tells Work
Financed By Sale
Of Christmas Seals

Accompanying the allotments of Christmas Seals which have been forwarded to various Gladstone business houses, industries and residents is a form letter which explains what the money derived from the annual sale is used for.

The letter follows:
"Dear Friend:
"The sale of Christmas Seals in Gladstone does three important things for the people in Gladstone."

"It helps to finance the rehabilitation program at Pinecrest Sanatorium. This program includes vocational guidance, social service, occupational therapy, teaching and recreational therapy. In short, it enables the tuberculous patient to prepare himself better for life outside the sanatorium."

"It provides health education through movies, pamphlets, leaflets and lectures. The intelligent approach to tuberculosis is a thorough understanding of the disease."

"Last year in Delta County there were 29 new cases of tuberculosis and 7 deaths from that disease."

"Tuberculosis is both preventable and unnecessary. It kills more people between the ages of 15-45 than any other disease. Every effort is being made to discover the disease in its infancy and to fight it in every way we know how."

"You can help, probably more than you realize, with your purchase of Christmas Seals."

If a ship is too stable, that is, too little inclined to roll with the seas, the result is a short, quick roll often uncomfortable to passengers.

With Evergreens,
Wreaths

The business section of the City of Gladstone is now taking on a Christmas atmosphere. Municipal crews have struck garlands of evergreens interwoven with colored lights and centered a large Christmas wreath across the main street at intervals.

The city will again erect a big municipal Christmas tree and it probably will be at the corner of Delta and Tenth as in years past. Store owners are also decorating the store fronts and windows in keeping with the season.

HEADLIGHTERS
HIT CAR TWICECar Was Parked Beside Camps In Which Men Slept

Investigation is being made by Michigan State Police of some promiscuous shooting by headlighters in the vicinity of Trombly.

Checking the complaint, State Police found that headlighters put two bullets in an auto owned by August Anderson which was parked at the Larson jobbing operation west of Trombly. The handle on the rear deck of the auto was nicked and apparently reflected the light used by the hunter or hunters who took it for the eye of an animal.

The auto was parked between two camps in both of which men were sleeping, but luckily the shots were directed so that the men were not hit, although officers said it was doubtful that the hunters realized this.

BROWNS STILL SELLING STARS

Dangle Health, Early At Annual Minor League Meeting

By Joe Reichler
Miami, Fla., Dec. 1 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns, richer by $425,000 following four startling transactions, sought more gold today, dangle health, early at annual minor league meeting.

Among the first to arrive for the annual minor league convention which gets under way Wednesday, the Browns' delegation of General Manager Bill DeWitt, his brother, Charles, secretary of the club, and Zach Taylor, the new manager, already have set up shop in one of this winter resort's leading hotels.

Bill DeWitt made it plain that one of last season's squad which finished a dismal last in the American League race are certain to follow Vern Stephens, Jack Kravitz and others who made Thanksgiving merry for St. Louis stockholders financially speaking.

"We are not through trading by any means," DeWitt said. "We are prepared to trade anybody on our roster if we feel those deals will improve the club."

"We are determined to field a young, speedy, hustling team next year. Except for pitchers Nelson Potter and Clem Dreisewerd, whom we obtained from the Red Sox, all players will be under 29 years of age, unless we get stupendous offers, we will build our team around such speedsters as third baseman Bob Dillinger and outfielders Paul Lehner and Al Zarilla."

DeWitt was not the only would-be David Harum at the minor leagues' show, which attracted such big time pilots as Mel Ott of the New York Giants; Joe McCarthy, Red Sox; Johnny Neun, Cincinnati Reds; Bill Meyer, Pittsburgh Pirates; and Mucky Harris of the Yankees.

Robert E. Hannegan, who recently purchased the St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the early arrivals. Also here were Horace Stoneham, Giants; George Weiss, Yankees; John Quinn, Boston Braves; Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds; Joe Cronin, Red Sox; Roy Hamey, Pirates; Herb Pennock, Phillies; and Billy Evans, Detroit Tigers.

Along the business front, the American Association, through its president and spokesman, Frank Lane, went on record as opposing the Pacific Coast League's proposal for a special major-minor status by a unanimous 8-0 vote.

RIOTING ARABS TEAR FLAG AT U. S. LEGATION

Saudi Arabia had agreed to contribute the oil revenues of his kingdom—paid to him by American oil companies and estimated at $18,000,000 a year—to support Arab military resistance to partition.

Azzam Pasha said the league's plan of action was "ready"—apparently referring to a recent meeting of the Arab League Council in Lebanon where Egypt and other members of the league were requested to move their troops to the borders of Palestine and to mobilize troops of more distant member states.

The league comprises the states of Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Iraq, Trans-Jordan, Egypt, Lebanon and Syria. They cover an area about half that of the U. S.

Another statement issued by the Arab league secretariat declared that partition of the Holy Land would "take from the Arab majority the most fertile parts of Palestine's soil and the most important outlets to the sea, and out more than 400,000 Arabs at the mercy of 500,000 Jews in sections where the Arab majority runs as high as 90 per cent."

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Jerusalem, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Arab higher executive today called for a three-day general strike of Arabs throughout the Holy Land beginning tomorrow to protest the United Nations decision to partition Palestine, which touched off a weekend wave of violence that claimed the lives of at least seven Jews.

Grid Fans, Left Limp By Dizzy Season, Get Set For Bowl Madness

Nw York, Dec. 1 (AP)—They prepared the 1947 college football season for moth balls today and the fans, left limp by one of the dullest of campaigns, began collecting second wind for the bowl madness Jan. 1.

There is only one genuine pulse-quicker left on the regular schedule—that's Notre Dame's encounter with Southern California Saturday in Los Angeles. The handful of other remaining games are minor.

The unblemished Fighting Irish will be out to clinch the mythical National championship by making a better showing against the onced Trojans than does Michigan in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day.

For weeks now it's been nip-and-tuck between Notre Dame and Michigan for the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll. A decisive victory Saturday might put the Irish in.

But regardless of what occurs the rest of the way, the 1947 season already goes into the books as one crammed with surprises.

It was a year that saw Army, unconquerable for three seasons, lose two games and tie two and then roar back for one magnificent afternoon to smother Navy, 21 to 0.

It was a year that saw Michigan return to preeminence in the Western Conference and Southern Cal to supremacy on the West Coast to lay a star-spangled setting for the annual battle of roses at Pasadena.

Dark horses were the rule rather than the exception in emerging as sectional champions.

In the Southeastern Conference, where Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Georgia Tech have long been dominant, little Mississippi rode to the title crest behind passing Charley Conerly and snugging Barney Poole by beating Mississippi State, 33-14. Mississippi will play TCU in Memphis Delta Bowl.

Southern Methodist, although tied, 19-19, in its final game by TCU, surprised by beating out Texas and Rice in the wide-open Southwest Conference. SMU plays Penn State in the Cotton Bowl. William and Mary outdistanced favored North Carolina in the southern.

The "surprise" theme prevailed right down through the last big Saturday.

Georgia Tech, slated for the Orange Bowl in Miami against Kansas, edged past Georgia, 7 to 0, and Kansas overcame Arizona, 54 to 28.

Alabama, which has a Sugar Bowl date with Texas in New Orleans, hay anything but easy sailing in triumph over Miami (Fla.), 21 to 6, Saturday night.

Texas Tech won a spot in the Sun Bowl by jolting favored Hardin-Simmons, 14 to 6, for the Border Conference championship.

Two teams gave their resigning coaches a good sendoff. Holy Cross won over favored Boston College, 20 to 6, for OX Dagrosa. And West Virginia's Mountaineers, whose coach Bill Kern quit last week, trounced Pittsburgh, 17 to 2.

The first West Virginia win over Pitt in 19 years.

Johnson wants the committee to investigate reports that only about $100,000,000 of the amount made available last May for Italy, Austria, Greece and Trieste has been spent thus far.

Another inquiry into the foreign field was arranged by the House commerce committee. It invited commerce department experts to report today on shipments of heavy machinery and other equipment to Russia.

It is estimated that the present number of American Indians is less than half the 846,000 believed to have lived in the United States before the coming of white men.

Moore, Nahma, which was stopped behind another car at the traffic light. The right front fender right door and right side of the body of the Corbett car was damaged. The right front and rear fenders of the Moore car were dented.

It was also announced that Monday, Dec. 8, has been set for the club's first annual 100 per cent attendance meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bailey and children of 1223 Ninth avenue south returned Sunday evening from Ashland, Wis., where they spent the Thanksgiving Day weekend at the home of Mrs. Bailey's mother.

People of Britain Fearful of Hunger Before Crops Grow

London, Dec. 1 (AP)—Britons showed increasing worry today over a possibility that they may become really hungry before next summer's food crops flow into the stores.

Doctors, clergymen and newspaper editors expressed fears that the food shortage may bring on diseases and cut workers' energy enough to hamper the nation's "produce-for-recovery" industrial drive.

Geoffrey Cox, political correspondent of the liberal News Chronicle, reported many labor members of parliament and some members of the government are urging sale of more of Britain's reduced foreign investments to buy food abroad.

There are more than 150 tribes of American Indians represented on reservations in the United States.

CRANE BRAKE IS DEMONSTRATED

New Equipment Shown By Harnischfeger In Milwaukee

Milwaukee, Wis.—A weight of 14,610 pounds of cast iron discs moved delicately downward from an overhead crane at the Harnischfeger Corp. plant Monday night. Four times the massive load settled an additional one-eighth of an inch and each time another red light went on.

This dainty maneuvering with massive industrial machinery was part of a demonstration for newspaper and trade magazine writers and industrial representatives of a new Harnischfeger development in brakes for overhead cranes. The brake is called the "magnetorque" and utilizes alternating current direct from the power source rather than direct current required on most existing cranes.

The brake controls upward and downward movement with a previously unknown deftness, the company said.

Essentially simple in its construction, the brake is composed of a rotating core surrounded by but not touching a stationary magnet.

As Harnischfeger officials and engineers explained it, the brake is a considerable improvement over mechanical load brakes which wear out. A second major benefit, it was said, is the utilization of alternating current, which is a considerable money saver for small plants which find the installation of a conversion unit to obtain direct current a weighty expense. Speed control and immediate response also are features.

Safety Factor Outstanding

But most important, the officials said, is the safety factor of the new brake. Alternating current operates directly the drum which actually raises or lowers weights, but current for the magnetorque is converted into the smoother operating direct current through a rectifying unit which is part of the assembly.

A small generator is attached directly to the magnetorque. Should the power source suddenly fail and the friction type motor brake also fail, the weight of the falling load immediately turns the generator, producing current to give enough magnetic power to slow the revolving inner core.

The new brake also will operate if the coupling shaft of the motor suddenly gives way, because the whirling of the drum and other parts again will turn the standby generator. Officials pointed out that the crane operator has no actual control over the brake when it operates with the standby generator because the control handle is connected with the alternating current line.

Harnischfeger Development

Although not a Harnischfeger invention, the magnetorque brake has been developed for cranes and power excavators by the West Allis firm. The manufacturing patent on the brake is held by the Dynamatic Corp., of Kenosha, which will supply an estimated 25 magnetorque units a month to Harnischfeger starting early next year.

Development on the crane brakes for Harnischfeger was carried out by Irvin Breckelbaum, executive chief engineer, and F.

Hit And Miss Items About Deer Hunters

E. L. (Roy) Goodman, hunting at his camp near Northland the last two days of the season, got his buck late Sunday afternoon. Roy was the only one of seven in the camp who filled his license, as was the case with Alfred (Tarz) Johnson at his camp. Alfred gets his every year, but Roy is not quite so consistent.

Edmund J. Beauchamp, hunting at Watson, shot a six-point buck, weighing 150 pounds, Thanksgiving afternoon, not far from his camp. The buck, Mr. Beauchamp says, was standing on the site of the ball field used for the Delta county school board picnic last September. In fact, he was in the pitcher's box, from which Margaret Srock tossed the ball which Hagle Quarnstrom hit for a home run.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland McMaster, who were guests at the Emil Martin farm at Perronville, during hunting season, returned to Detroit with 10-point buck which Mr. McMaster brought down in the Perronville district. It was his first deer. Mrs. Alice Chenier and Fargo McMaster also were hunting from the Martin farm, but were not successful in filling their licenses.

Arne Juntunen, 1712 First avenue south, shot a buck Saturday in the Cornell area. The animal had 10 points and weighed 175 pounds.

Censorship Lifted On Word Diaper In NBC Broadcasting

New York (AP)—The National Broadcasting company has eased its ban of many years standing on use of the word "diaper," an NBC spokesman announced.

In "bringing up to date" its policies on program censorship, Ken R. Dyke, network vice president in charge of programs, said that NBC henceforth would permit comedians to mention "diaper"—but only for purposes of dry humor.

"We're not going to be silly," Dyke said. "At the same time we are going to guard against obviously offensive material."

Coincidental with the rescue of the dry "diaper" with NBC oblivion, the network also approved for the first time the lyrics of the torchy song, "Body and Soul." Its words had been banned on the grounds of suggestiveness.

Dykes disclosed also that NBC now permitted rendition of the last two verses of the spiritual, "Way Down Yonder in the Cornfield," but not the first. The opening verse reflects unfavorably on the Negro, he held.

Condensed milk was introduced into the U. S. dairy business in 1857.

W. Wendelburg, chief electrical engineer of the application division. In 1942, the firm applied the magnetorque principle to friction excavators to replace the less durable friction clutches. On electric excavators the brake replaced a system of direct current generators and motors. H. S. Jacobs, chief electrical engineer, lead this development.

Develop Serum For Meningitis

A serum for the treatment of one type of meningitis, which can save the lives of at least 80 Michigan babies each year, is under production by the bureau of laboratories, Michigan Department of Health, Dr. J. K. Alland Commissioner, announced today.

This anti-serum which can be used only in treatment of Hemophilus Influenzae (Type B) meningitis, commonly called influenza meningitis (there are several other types of meningitis), will be distributed by the department beginning Monday. It will be stored in a half dozen strategically located centers in the state rather than at all biologies distribution centers because of the comparative rarity of the disease and the high cost of production.

A rabbit anti-serum, it is used in combination with sulfadiazine to destroy the so-called "influenza" or Pfeiffer's bacillus which is attacking the brain and spinal cord of the infant in this type of meningitis.

About 100 Michigan children contract influenza meningitis each year. Before use of this anti-serum, about 90 per cent of the cases were fatal. The anti-serum and proper treatment can reduce the fatality to 10 per cent, according to Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the bureau of disease control.

IT'S ALL OVER — Well, Michigan's 1947 deer hunting season is all over now, and probably you can start feeding them milk from a bottle as Ted Williams, three-time American league batting champion, is shown doing in this picture. Joe Godfrey Jr., of the Sportsmen's Club of America, is with big Ted. The picture was taken in the Lac du Flambeau area in northern Wisconsin.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

CUFF NOTES: Ted Wolfe, Marinette back, who will be remembered by Eskymo gridders, was the only Marinette player to be named on the coaches' all-Wisconsin high school squad. . . The lightest player on the squad (135 pounds), he'll make a jump to Madison with 32 other Wisconsin high school luminaries. . . Of course, while there they'll have an opportunity to look over University of Wisconsin facilities.

Congratulations to Harold Marenger, St. Joseph's athlete, for getting his buck three years in a row. . . Successful hunters say it's skill. . . Unsuccessful hunters say it's a matter of being in the right place at the right time—and they're never there! . . . The point is that when you find yourself in the right place at the right time, it still takes skill to bring one down. . . That's where Harold comes in.

We belong to that vast army of hunters who have trekked, tracked, squatted on a runway and have been on the receiving end of drives by accommodating co-hunters for years—and still haven't had a shot. . . But there'll come a day!

After chiding us a bit for trying to move Carl Nordberg, former Escanaba high school coach, to Saginaw from his presumably comfortable position at Mackinac Island, Tom Pellow, of Negaunee, Saturday told about three former U. P. men who actually are still making football history in Lower Michigan. . . The item some time ago about Nordberg apparently originated in Detroit and since it had an Upper Peninsula angle was used in Menominee, Marquette and—yes, Escanaba—because of the Escanaba angle.

At any rate, Nordberg is not at Saginaw. . . He is at Mackinac Island, where he is serving as superintendent of the Mackinac Island state park commission. . . He has held that position since leaving Saginaw about four years ago.

Ed Shadford, formerly of Negaunee, just completed his second consecutive undefeated football season at Ypsilanti Central high school, where he is football coach and athletic director, Pellow reports. . . Harry Anderle, formerly of Lake Linden and Marinette, just completed an undefeated season at Port Huron high. . . Pellow also informed us that Matty Gleason, former Northern Michigan College of Education football and basketball player, is coaching at Sandusky high.

SPARTANS WHIP HAWAII, 58-19

Bud Crane Crashes Into Limelight With 4 Touchdowns

East Lansing, Dec. 1 (AP)—Michigan State's impressive 58-19 victory over the University of Hawaii Saturday, played against the exotic backdrop of the mid-Pacific Islands, concluded the most successful football season the Spartans have had since 1937.

The one-sided win represented the highest score Michigan State has piled up since the Spartans steamrollered Alma 93-0 in 1932. The victory gave Michigan State a seven won, two lost total for the season.

The last time MSC finished a season with an unblemished record was in 1937, when the Spartans won eight and lost two and was invited to the Orange Bowl. Coach Biggie Munn, incidentally, has revealed that he received feelers for several bowl bids this year, but let it be known any invitations would be rejected, mainly because the Hawaiian trip meant the squad would have to spend an entire week away from the campus.

Michigan State had a three-touchdown lead at the end of the first quarter Saturday and kept riling up the points despite and 87-degree temperature that was expected to slow down the off-landers. Bud Crane, a Highland Park sophomore who had been used only sparingly as a sub halfback this year, exploded as star of the game in the absence of George Guerre and Horace Smith. Crane made four touchdowns, one of them on a 60-yard dash with an intercepted pass.

Eskymos Open With 33-26 Win Over St. Joe

Free Throw Misses Are Costly To Trojan Five

Capitalizing on 60 per cent of their free throws, compared with a measly 22 per cent scored by the losers, the Escanaba high school Eskymos opened their 1947-48 basketball season by defeating the St. Joseph's parochial school Trojans, 33 to 26, in the junior high gym Saturday night.

Inability to cash in from the free throw line cost St. Joe the ball game. They made good on only six of 27 tries. The Eskymos earned their margin of victory by sinking 14 out of 23. If the Trojans had done as well, they'd have won the game. Both quintets scored 10 field goals.

The Trojans, who earlier in the week had spanked the St. Joe alumni convincingly, 52-21, started off with a rush, outscoring the Eskymos, 9-7, in the first quarter. Ed Hendrickson, Gerald Harris and Jack Miron carried the brunt of the scoring attack.

With Dick Lough, Ron Hirn and Gary Abrahamson setting the scoring pace, the Eskymos began to get the upper hand in the second quarter, however, and had forged into an 11-10 halftime lead. With a third quarter rush, Escanaba high swelled its lead to 25-19 going into the final period and then hung on for a seven-point winning margin.

Hendrickson topped individual scoring honors, scoring five field goals and three charity throws for 13 points.

Converting on six of nine free throw chances, Lough topped the Eskymo scorers with 10 points. Abrahamson hit four from the field for second honors.

Making it a clean sweep for the night, the Eskymo reserves topped St. Joe's "B" squad, 37-13. Anderson, Escanaba high, was the high scorer with 12 points, including five field goals.

PACKER FAMINE ENDS, 30 TO 10

Bays Explode In 2nd
Half To Wallop
Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Dec. 1—Green Bay's victory drought finally ended in the huge Coliseum here Sunday afternoon. Beaten by the Steelers, Bears and Cardinals on successive weekends and then tied by the Giants last Sunday for one of their leanest streaks in years, the Packers finally came through in the Warm California climate with a 30-10 victory over the hapless Los Angeles Rams.

An explosive second half did it after the Rams had led at the intermission, 3-2, and Curly Lambeau had had the first faint visions of another heart-breaking one point licking.

Everything the Packers tried in the second half worked, everything, and at the steady pace of two touchdowns in each quarter, they piled up the score.

Ted Fritsch scored the first touchdown on a buck from the two after a drive of 67 yards, Clyde Goodnight accounted for the second on a 14 yard pass from Jack Jacobs after a drive of 34 yards. Fritsch counted the third on a buck from the one after a drive of 73 yards, and Tony Canadeo accounted for the fourth on a 14 yard run after a drive of 87 yards. Cuff added each of the extra points. The first half safety was scored when a flock of Packers descended on Dante Magnani who had recovered a fumble in his end zone.

Horn Has Chance To Lead Nation's Grid Scoring Race

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—The only grider in the country with a chance to top Chuck Schoenherr's 115 points and become the nation's leading collegiate football scorer—Darwin Horn—will attempt it Friday night when his Pepperdine team clashes with Loyola at Los Angeles.

None of the four players with 100 or more points performed last weekend. Schoenherr, of Wheaton (Ill.) college, retained his lead, followed by Wesley Luther, Minot, (N. D.) Teachers College, with 112, Horn with 109 and Tom Ward, Hillsdale (Mich.) 108.

Bowl Games Confoosin'!

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—Now that the football season has every one completely confused (the "regular" season goes on with such games as Notre Dame-Southern California but there also are two "bowl" games this week) let's go indoors for an equally goofy basketball season. . . Tulane opens the big-time double-header season at Madison Square Garden tomorrow with a squad of five New Orleans boys, ten from Indiana and one each from Kentucky and Illinois. . . Coach Cliff Wells tutored Indiana high school chasers for 29 years before going to Tulane. . . and this isn't pointing the finger at Cliff, because everybody is getting them where he can these days. . . the Garden schedule calls for eleven doubleheaders before Christmas. . . Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Buffalo, etc., all will be staging big-time pre-Christmas shows, but the topper comes from Peoria, Ill. . . Bradley 7, carrying on all by itself, will play three successive bargain bills with such teams as Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State and Texas Christian furnishing the main opposition, and then will go to Boston to play Harvard.

Quote, Unquote
Frank Boucher, N. Y., Rangers' manager: "Hockey won't expand much until the visiting teams are given a cut in the gate receipts as is done in baseball. . . Baseball has been going on for a long time and baseball men ought to know what is good business."

Monday Matinee
Ed Bang's Cleveland News fight show tomorrow presents four bouts that would be main events almost anywhere else, with Edward Charles vs. Fitz Fitzpatrick on top. . . Emil Sitko, Notre Dame halfback, has been tabbed "Six-Yard" because his average gains for two years have been just about that. . . Don Boven, who wound up the football season at Oklahoma City Thanksgiving Day, will head the Western Michigan basketball team when it invades the Garden next Saturday. . . And Denver's Dick Yates is passing up a football trip to Hawaii to come East with the basketballers. . . Branch Rickey, Jr., offers to bet the Pirates will finish in the first division next season, but he won't give away any likely trades by saying what the Bucs will finish with.

End of the Line
The day after he was named as the American league's most valuable player, Joe DiMaggio lunched with Prexy Ford Erick and Publisher Charley Segar of the National league. . . Anyone wants bet they learned something useful for the next world series? . . . Jockey Sterling Young who has just opened a jewelry shop in Miami, wants to donate a pair of watches to the leading riders of the Gulfstream Park meeting. . . Jersey Joe Walcott is a distant cousin of the old-time fighter known as the "Joplin Ghost". . . That ain't the kind of ghost Jersey Joe will think he saw after Friday's Joe Louis fight.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE
The Knights of Columbus basketball team, an entry in the Escanaba city league, will practice at the William Bonifas gym at 9 tonight.

YANKS, BROWNS MEET FOR TITLE

Bears, Eagles Probably Will Clash For National Cup

New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—The New York Yankees and the Cleveland Browns will collide for the all-America football conference championship Dec. 14 for the second straight year and the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles are on the threshold of meeting for the rival National League's diadem a week later.

The Yanks, led by Spec Sanders and Buddy Young, won their second straight Eastern Division title yesterday by crushing the runner-up Buffalo Bills, 35-13, at the Yankee Stadium.

The Browns, who defeated the Yanks in last year's championship game, were idle along with San Francisco, Los Angeles and Brooklyn.

Meanwhile, the Eagles took over first place in the nation's Eastern Division scramble from the injury riddled Pittsburgh Steelers by blanking the Steelers 21-0 at Philadelphia.

In the western half flag chase, the idle Bears took a one game lead over the Chicago Cardinals as the Redbirds were upset, 35-31 by the Eastern Division's tailend Giants in New York.

Both the Bears and Cards have two games to play, including a meeting with each other on the last day of the season. The Cards are confronted with a difficult assignment as they meet the Eagles next Sunday in Philadelphia before their clash with the Bears.

PRICES CLIMB; WAGES UP TOO

Increased Living Costs
Offset Pay Raises
In Industry

Washington. (AP) — Wholesale prices, retail sales and the wages of 13,000,000 Americans all have climbed higher during the past few weeks.

Figures from two government agencies showed:

1. The prices of wholesale goods hit a new postwar peak during the week ending Nov. 22. They were 59.2 per cent higher than in 1926, and only 4.8 per cent below the all-time record of May 1920.

2. Workers in manufacturing plants earned an average of $50.97 a week in October, for a new all-time record.

3. Retail stores sold an estimated $10,025,000,000 (billions) worth of goods in October, about $700,000,000 over the figure of September and about $1,100,000,000 (billions) over the mark for October, 1946.

The wage and wholesale price figures, both from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, were peaks hit after weeks of steady rising.

It was the third consecutive week during which a new high mark was hit by the prices of wholesale goods and the second month in which wages for the 13,000,000 production workers had gone beyond a record $50 a week. The September wage average was $50.45.

The BLS released the two sets of figures separately, but it commented that the wage gains were offset by price increases which it did not further identify.

The commerce department, which announced the retail sales figures, said more jewelry, general merchandise, clothing and home furnishings were sold in September than in October, but more dollars were spent in October.

The decline in sale of those goods was more than balanced, the department said, by increased sale of such items as food and automobiles.

Red Cross Helps Supply Victims Of Fire At Melstrand

Munising.—The Alger county chapter of the Red Cross has sent out an appeal for assistance to the Elmer Robinson family, of Melstrand, which was burned out of its home there by fire Friday.

John P. Carr, home service chairman of the chapter, has asked for donations of clothing, cooking and eating utensils, a stove, beds, and bedding "and most everything a family needs".

Contributions may be taken to the Munising courthouse, where Carr has his office as county clerk, or donors may phone him and the articles will be picked up.

There are four children in the Robinson family, aged a year and a half, five, seven and 10. Mr. Robinson is a woods worker, employed near Melstrand.

Alger Supervisors Set Aside $10,000 For Snow Removal

Munising.—Holding a special meeting in the Munising courthouse Friday, the Alger county board of supervisors temporarily set aside the problem of snow removal on county roads by transferring $10,000 to the road commission's fund.

Several weeks ago the road commission announced it did not have funds to plow county roads this winter, and would limit its work to state routes unless money was forthcoming. Heavy snow of the past week in some sections of the county has accentuated the need for plowing, and brought about the special meeting of the supervisors.

At the board's regular meeting on Dec. 9 the proposition of holding a special election to vote on a special five-mill tax to take care of winter plowing and summer road work will be discussed.

MUNISING BRIEFS

The board of administration of the Eden Lutheran church will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. William DeBruyn have returned from Norway where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mrs. Borghild Carlson and sons of Ishpeming, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Tinkham.

Robert Bauman, a student at the Northern College of Education, is spending the weekend here.

IMMUNIZATION CLINIC

Munising, Mich. — The Alger county health department will hold an immunization clinic in the Grand Marais school on Tuesday, Dec. 10, at 10:30 a. m. The clinic is held for pre-school and school children.
